- Motorists are again reminded that speed control measures have ramped up across the Dunkettle site in the context of significant works planned over the summer months

- Waterproofing works at Structure ST05 have been completed and the black sand carpet surfacing has been installed - see photograph below.

Black Sand Carpet works ongoing at Structure ST05

- We hope to progress a temporary tie-in between Link M/Structure ST04 and the N25 Westbound on the weekend of Friday the 23rd of June 2023 - see layout plan above and photograph below.
- The works required will necessitate the closure of the N25 Westbound diverge to the Dunkettle Interchange Roundabout. It is proposed to close this diverge between 8pm and 9pm on Friday, the 23rd June 2023 with the diverge reopening as quickly as possible but not later than 12 noon on Sunday the 25th June 2023.

- The main diversion route will be via the R623 through Little Island, and it will also be possible to access the Jack Lynch Tunnel via a U-turn at the Tivoli Roundabout.
- The works are being carried out under weekend/night-time working in order to minimise disruption to traffic, but additional time should be allowed for journeys in the area during peak times on Saturday the 24th June 2023.

Works area for weekend of Friday the 23rd June 2023.

- The resurfacing works at Tivoli Roundabout area will continue over the coming week under night-time working with local diversions in place as required.

- Link F, shown highlighted on the plan above, will provide a new route for traffic heading Eastbound from the Tivoli Roundabout and wishing to access the N40 Westbound via the Jack Lynch Tunnel.

Link F works nearing completion.

- Our intention is to open Link F to traffic over the summer months – exact dates will be confirmed when they become available, and the video below consists of a recent overflight of Link F which is currently nearing completion.

This week's video shows the current status of Link F which is due to open over the summer months.
